News, Notes & Deadlines (N,N&D) is a publication of the ACUO in Washington, DC that is released monthly from September through June. Each issue of News, Notes & Deadlines describes approximately 125 higher education grant programs, providing readers with the name of the sponsoring organization, description of the grant or fellowship, deadline for submitting applications, telephone number and website.

All deadlines are confirmed with the agency or foundation immediately prior to publication and are organized into five project categories: Arts, Humanities & Education; Science, Engineering & Mathematics; Social and Behavioral Science; Health & Medicine; and Multidisciplinary.

If you are interested in viewing the funding options for your area, please visit ANGEL and search for the News, Notes & Deadlines Community Group.

E&H Grant Success

Grant funding makes up a small percentage of the college budget, but it has great potential for growth and could help the college during economic downturns and low tuition ebbs. Recent grant successes include:

- $1.77 million award from the U.S. Department of Education Title III program.
- $65,000 from the Richard and Caroline Gwathmey Memorial Trust, the Titmus Foundation and the Mary Morton Parsons Foundation to help construct the new greenhouse.
- $50,000 from the Virginia Department of Education for the Reading First Reading Teacher Academy, a project spearheaded by Janet Crickmer.

Money won is twice as sweet as money earned.